"I met a lot of interesting people from all over the world who influenced my time here, and probably my life, in a very positive way. We shared incomparable memories, awesome moments and some sad ones, but they all strengthened the bond between us and widened our personal horizons. None of my days here were boring. If you want to discover new cultures and at the same time overcome your personal barriers, Malaysia is a very good place to study abroad."

Sahar Rahimi

"Monash has an incredibly diverse student population, leading to an abundance of cultural experiences that I greatly enjoyed. Studying here also helped me to broaden my perspective on global issues regarding gender, nationality and the environment."
